Georgianne Tanner Named Miss Saline County at Beauty Pageant

Miss Georgianne Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tanner of Harrisburg, today reigned as Miss Saline County of 1957.

Miss Tanner, sponsored by Delta Theta Tau, was chosen Queen at the annual Beauty Pageant held at the Saline County Fair Saturday night.

Second place went to Miss Judy Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hicks, sponsored by the Harrisburg Bowl, and third was Miss Janice Stiff, sister of Mrs. Joan Faulkner, sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

They were chosen from among 24 Saline county girls who competed in the pageant.

Rain Prevents Use of Cars

The event was sponsored by the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, and its members did a fine job of work to overcome an emergency created when rain began falling hard at just the time the pageant was to commence.

The rain made a quagmire out of the grounds in front of the track and the use of convertibles to bring the girls to the stage was ruled out.

By using planks covered with canvass, the Jaycees devised a system whereby the girls would parade from an area near the grandstand onto the stage and this worked out nicely. Rain held off for the show, but just as it was ending started falling again.

Louis Murphy was master of ceremonies for the event and the judges were Joe Hale, Galatin county judge; J. Glenn Babb of the Citizens National bank of Evansville; Donald Harris of Marion, district vice president of the Jaycees; and Dr. Curtis Parker of Mt. Vernon, former Jaycees vice president.

Other Girls in Contest

Miss Tanner was crowned Miss Saline county of 1957 by Mrs. Eugenia Gollhier Plater, who is a former Miss Saline County.

Other girls who participated were Sierra Sue Stricklin, Judy Lanham, Marilee Durham, Betziann Ammon, Jane Davis, Mary Ann Read, Janice Armistead, Doris Williams, Sue Cox, Janice Sutton, Marsha Pierston, Betty Jo Shanks, Karen Skaggs, Gaylene Yates, Janice Morris, Pat Taylor, Barbara Travelstead, Pat Field, Carolyn Dewey, Edna Henshaw and Angie Psiou.

Mother of S. M. Farrar Dies

Mrs. Lydia Farrar, of Nashville, Tenn., mother of S. M. Farrar of Harrisburg, died Sunday afternoon at her home in Nashville. Mrs. Farrar, who was 88 years of age, suffered a broken hip in a fall about a week ago and death resulted from complications of that injury. She had been in good health considering her age until her fall.

Besides Mr. Farrar she is survived by the following sons and daughters, some of whom are well known here: Fred Farrar of Ava, Ill.; Walter Farrar, Miss Ann Farrar and Mrs. Jess Witt, all of Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Farrar went to Nashville Saturday because of his mother's serious condition and will remain for the funeral which will be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. at Nashville.

Four to Leave For Induction

Four young men will leave Tuesday morning for the induction station at St. Louis. They are:

William Lewis Lavender, Harrisburg;
Glendon Roger Pryor, Carrier Mills;
Ronald Lee Ingram, Eldorado;
William Wesley Dodd Jr., Eldorado.

Quincy War I Veteran Heads Illinois Legion

CHICAGO (UP) — Delegates to the 39th annual convention of the Illinois department of the American Legion were back home today following a four-day meeting which saw the elevation of Anthony Badamo, 62, a Purple Heart veteran from Quincy, to state commander.

The World War I doughboy, who operates a taxi company and filling station in the Mississippi River town, moved unopposed into the top rank job from his previous office of senior vice commander.

Albert Keller Jr., 33, office manager of a Kankakee construction company, was named senior vice commander to succeed Badamo. Keller was an aerial gunner with the 15th Air Force during World War II.

Badamo led Legionnaires from more than 1,100 state posts down Michigan Avenue Sunday in a three-hour, mile-long parade which put a flamboyant finish to the veterans' three-day conclave.

An estimated 200,000 spectators watched marchers, complete with bands, drum and bugle corps, floats bedecked with pretty girls and the multi-colored jalopies and fire engines of the 40 & 8, step off in review past Gov. Stratton, and Legion officials.

The 40 & 8, the Legion's merry-makers, were led by their newly elected chief de gare, Dr. John O. Firth, 59, Monmouth, president of the Warren County Medical Society. Firth is the first M.D. ever to hold the office.

In three hectic days of business sessions the delegates to the state convention:—Opposed the United Nations, urging that it be changed "to eliminate all connection with world government."

—Voted down a resolution asking that the United States extend economic aid to Poland.

—Opposed a resolution asking that school boards throughout the state provide for the teaching of pupils the duties and obligations of citizens and the differences between foreign ideologies and the American form of government.

R. T. McAllister, Prominent in UMW, Dies at Du Quoin

DU QUOIN, Ill. — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Richard T. McAllister, 79, Du Quoin, who died Friday at his home.

He had been prominent in United Mine Workers circles and was a former Illinois lobbyist.

McAllister, who had been in failing health for several years, was a past sub-district president of the United Mine Workers of America. He was also a former president of the Illinois Mine Examining Board.

He served a number of years as lobbyist for the UMW in the Illinois Legislature.

One son and three daughters survive.

Mrs. Chas. Ashby Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Minnie Vessell Ashby, 68, 1113 First street, Eldorado, died in the Pearce hospital in Eldorado at 3 a. m. today. She leaves her husband, Charlie Ashby and the following children: Mrs. Sam (Flossie) Jarrell, Harrisburg, Mrs. Jimmy (Kathleen) Blades, McLeansboro, and John Allen "Bud" Vessell, Eldorado. Her brother, Herman Swager, of Pueblo, Colo., ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, also survive.

The body will lie in state at the Eldorado funeral home until the funeral there at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Elder Leslie Raglan will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Auto Accident on Rt. 45 Fatal to J. W. Johnson, 25

New Haven Woman Dies in Auto Accident

A 64-year-old New Haven, Ill., woman died Sunday morning in Ferrell hospital at Eldorado of injuries received when an auto hit a tree on Illinois Route 141 near Cottonwood, Coroner James Thornton reported today. Her grandson was injured in the crash.

Mrs. Ida Treat was injured Saturday night and died Sunday in the hospital at Eldorado, where she was taken by ambulance. Thornton was informed. He said there were no witnesses to the crash, that passing motorists saw the wrecked auto and occupants.

In Ferrell hospital is the 14-year-old grandson, Lester Lawson. Reports were that he told relatives Mrs. Treat was driving in a heavy rain on Route 141 near Cottonwood, midway between New Haven and Route 1, when the car left the highway and missed one tree, then hit another.

Mrs. Treat was the widow of John C. Treat, who died at New Haven two weeks ago.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: William Treat of New Haven, Herman C. Wicker of Evansville and Van Cleve Wicker of Kankakee, Ill., Mrs. Woodrow Bean of New Haven and Mrs. Clifford Belt of Cottonwood.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the New Haven Tabernacle with the Rev. Henry Davis conducting the service. Burial will be in Union Ridge cemetery.

Her body, which was taken to the Smith-Edwards funeral home in Ridgway, was moved to the residence in New Haven this morning.

Steve Bardos, 43, Dies of Heart Attack; Received Serious Grid Injury in 1931

Steve Bardos, who almost died when injured playing football for the Harrisburg Bull Dogs in 1931, died at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in Indianapolis of a heart attack.

Bardos, 43, had suffered heart trouble for three years but died suddenly at his home at 636 Waverling in Indianapolis. He left Harrisburg about 20 years ago and had been an iron worker in Indianapolis for 15 years.

Funeral services were scheduled to be held at St. Patrick's church in Indianapolis at 10 a. m. today.

Young Bardos was seriously injured during the Harrisburg-Marion game of Oct. 24, 1931, when a knee butted him in the stomach and during the days that followed, his life was despaired of. Two emergency operations were performed and his struggle to live attracted nationwide publicity. The Oct. 31 game against West Frankfort that year was called off because of his condition.

After he began to rally a Steve Bardos Day contest was held on Armistice Day with a parade which featured high school bands from Eldorado, Benton and Harrisburg. He was able to return to school Jan. 1 and was graduated with the Class of 1932. His injury was described as the worst in the history of HTHS football.

Denies Publicity Trip

Red Skelton Returns Home with Stricken Son; Hits British Press

NEW YORK (UP) — Comedian Red Skelton and his leukemia stricken son returned to New York today from Europe. Skelton vigorously denied that the trip was made for publicity as charged by several British newspapers.

With his arm around 9-year-old Richard, who said he was "feeling fine," Skelton said he bore no malice against the English people for their press attacks.

"It was really one newspaper which was responsible for this thing. A reporter from this newspaper approached me as we got off the plane in London and asked me to give him an exclusive interview on the medical aspects of Richard's illness," Skelton said.

"I told him I was not a doctor, that I was not familiar with medical terms and that I couldn't give him such an interview. However, I told him that if he wanted such information, he should write to my doctor."

The TV and movie star left Britain suddenly Sunday night with his son, wife and 13-year-old daughter Valentina. They had been in Scotland and had planned to spend several days in Dublin, but decided instead to return to America.

A sharply critical editorial in the London Express Sunday criticized Skelton for presenting Richard at a "sickening display" of "sickly run receptions and publicity hand-outs."

"Take the boy home, Mr. Skelton," the newspaper said.

Explain Illness to Son
Skelton said that during their three-week visit to Europe reporters had made some remarks in Richard's presence about his leukemia.

"It was nauseating for me and my wife. It was shocking to the boy because he knew nothing about this," Skelton said. "Then I had to explain to him that he was a dying boy."

Biggest Thrill: Seeing Pope
Despite their troubles, Skelton said, the entire family thought the trip was a success.

"The kids had a lot of fun. Probably we would still be there but both of them are anxious to see their little friends back home," he said.

Richard, who smiled and joked with his father, said his biggest thrill was meeting Pope Pius XII in Rome.

Skelton later told reporters out of Richard's hearing that his boy's illness is now in a "remission period."

"He's not getting any worse and he's not getting any better, but he's taking his medicine and following the advice of his doctor."

"I plan a normal life for my son," he added.

Skelton said the family will stay here until they leave late today or early Tuesday for Los Angeles.

Killed in Two-Car Collision on Ledford Curve

Silas Gordon, 25, Driver of Other Auto, is Injured

James William (Bill) Johnson, 25-year-old resident of Harrisburg Route 2 and a bookkeeper at the Stearns and Sadler Glass Co. in Harrisburg, was killed late Saturday night on Ledford curve on Route 45 south of this city.

State Policeman Everett Estes, who investigated, said that Johnson was killed in a two-car collision on the curve as Johnson was driving alone toward his home at Ledford, where he resided with his parents. He said the crash occurred at 11:15 p. m.

The other car, he said was driven by Silas Gordon, 25, of Harrisburg, who is in Lightner hospital. Reports were that he sustained serious injuries. With Gordon were two brothers from Salem, Ky., Sherman and James Moss. They suffered lesser injuries.

Coroner James Thornton of Carrier Mills today said he was conducting an investigation to seek to determine just what happened before the collision of the two cars.

Young Johnson's body was taken to the Thornton funeral home at Carrier Mills to lie in state.

The funeral will be held at the Social Brethren church on Route 45 at Carrier Mills, with the pastor, the Rev. Elmer Grisham, conducting the service and with burial in Sunset Lawn cemetery in Harrisburg, but the time depends upon the arrival of two sisters from California.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, and the following brothers and sisters: Robert (Bob) Johnson of Kankakee; Kenneth Johnson at home; Mrs. George (Lucille) Henshaw of Harrisburg Route 2; Mrs. Barbara Dowdy and Mrs. Jackolin Luncford, both of Panorama City, Calif.

The young man was a Korean War veteran, having served from Feb. 15, 1952, to Jan. 26, 1954. Before being employed by Stearns and Sadler he worked with his brother-in-law, George Henshaw, at the Highway Lumber Co. near Ledford.

Complete Faculty For Galatia High School

The Galatia Community high school faculty was completed today with the announcement of the employing of two more teachers.

Principal Jack Large announced the employing of Millard Davis, formerly of Cave-in-Rock, as coach and James Gibson, former Harrisburg man, as mathematics instructor.

Mr. Gibson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George William Gibson of Harrisburg. He received his B. S. degree from Southern Illinois University in 1949 and worked on his Masters there until 1950 when he left school to accept an office job with Halliburton Oil Co. He has been with the oil company in Texas.

The Gibson family will move to Galatia soon. There are four sons. Millard Davis at present is serving with the U. S. Army in Germany, but expects an early release in order to be at Galatia when school opens Sept. 3.

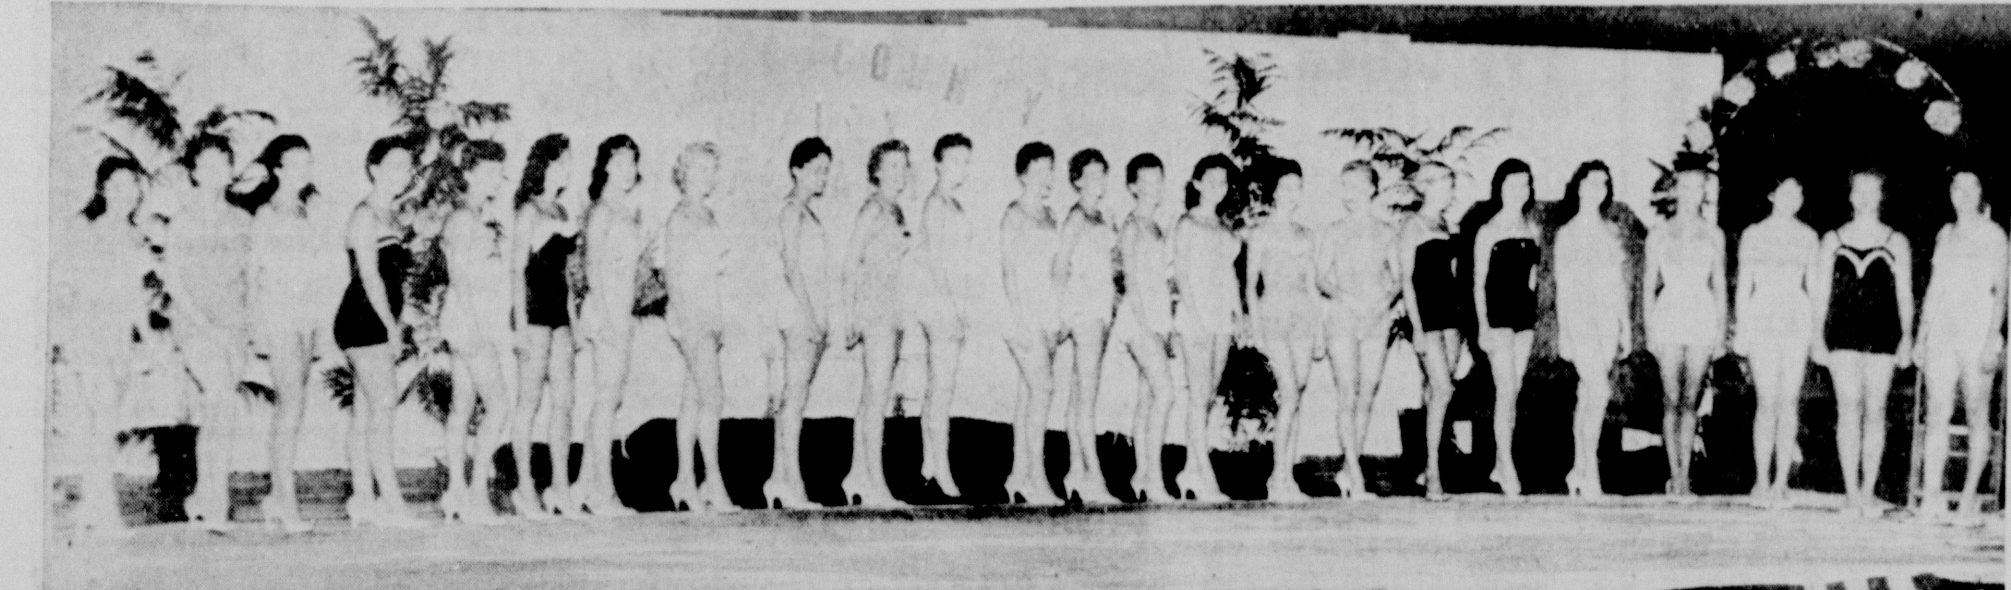

He is a graduate of the Cave-in-Rock high school and received his degree from Memphis State College in 1955. He accepted the coaching position at Rosiclare high school for the 1955-56 term, but entered military service within a few months after school began.

In addition to coaching, Davis will teach social studies and boys' physical education classes.

Pleasant Weather by Drop in Temperatures

A mercury plunge today left pleasant weather in Harrisburg community.

The temperature, which hit a hundred Saturday after a couple of previous days of 99, and which was accompanied by intense humidity, began dropping following the 33 inch rain Saturday night and fell into the sixties during last night.

THESE ARE THE TWENTY-FOUR CONTESTANTS lined up on the stage just before the announcement of the winners was made Saturday night at the Jaycee Beauty Pageant, which wound up the Saline County Fair. Moments later judges announced that Miss Georgianne Tanner was queen, Miss Judy Hicks was second and Miss Janice Stiff was third. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Symbol of Control

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
As time goes by, women seem to be fastening a tighter and tighter grip on the spending of money in America.

With their high-pressed husbands dropping from heart attacks and other ailments, the wives of businessmen have long been widening their beachhead in the U. S. economy through the acquisition of inherited wealth.

But that's only part of it. It's the women who spend most of the average man's regular earnings, for groceries, clothes, furniture and all manner of household stuff. The man hardly gets a chance to wave at his check as it speeds past him on a transmission belt from his employer to his wife's clutches.

The symbol of this control is the woman's handbag. It used to be a dainty little thing fitted out with a mirror, a powder puff and a small pocket for lipstick and rouge. You could maybe get a hankie, a tiny gold pencil and a couple of keys in the remaining space.

All that has changed as woman's role has altered. Walk down the street and take a little visual survey of the handbag today. There are many types, all of them big.

Some look like mail pouches. There's another kind that would serve as a diplomatic courier well. Wicker is in vogue, too, so you spot large, boxy affairs that could be picnic baskets or wine casks.

What's in them? Everything. Whole packets of paper tissues, gloves, sweaters, scarves, rolled-up raincoats, knocked-down umbrellas, note pads.

Oh, yes, and money.

The reason for all this equipment is simple. Women are out spending so frequently and so continuously they have to be prepared for every whim of weather, every shopping circumstance. A cold could run its course before they get back from some of these tours. In the truest sense, these are expeditions, and expeditions must be outfitted.

Men can't do much about the spending except mutter in futility. But they can complain with perhaps better effect about one thing. As the women swing down the sidewalks sniffing out places to unload their cash, a good many wield their bulky handbags like weapons. Few are the men who don't collect a bruise or two on arm or hand from this close-order street combat.

Okay, ladies, so you hold the purse strings. But just remember, that thing you're lugging around isn't a mace to be used for smiting down moneyless males. What do you want—our red corpuscles?

Ulysses S. Grant was born Hiram Grant. Disliking the common Hiram, he called himself H. Ulysses Grant. The congressman who appointed him to West Point wrote "Ulysses Simpson Grant," thinking his first name was Ulysses and that his middle name was that of his mother's family, Simpson. Grant never succeeded in getting the name changed in the records.

The Old Order Changeth...

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Drew Pearson says: Drought relief was doled out according to election year; Colorado Republicans found that bigotry doesn't pay.

WASHINGTON.—If you want to see how politics is played by secretary Benson and his boys regarding drought relief, take a look at the official figures issued by the Department of Agriculture. They show that in election years relief to the drought-stricken states zoomed way up. In non-election years, drought relief dropped way down.

Here are the figures: In 1954, a congressional election year, the Feed program to disaster areas was $8,221,373 hundredweight of feed. The hay program cost the treasury $9,900,000.

Next year, 1955, was a non-election year. Benson's boys apparently weren't too much worried about drought. In that year the feed program dropped from $8,221,373 hundredweight of feed. The hay program dropped from almost $10,000,000 to only $100,000.

The next year, 1956, however, was the big election year to put Ike back in office. In that year, the feed program zoomed way up again, even higher than in the last election year. It topped 70,780,944,500.

But that wasn't all. There was discrimination between certain states which were for Ike and those not for Ike. Senator Symington, Democrat of Missouri, has pointed out that, although Missouri suffered probably more than any other state from the Drought, it failed to get drought relief. There was little difference between Missouri and Kansas, as far as the drought was concerned, but a great deal of difference politically.

Just across the border, in Kansas they voted for Eisenhower. East of the border in Missouri they voted for Adlai Stevenson. Missouri was the only Middle West state which voted for Stevenson and which also has two Democratic Senators.

It happened that two governors of Missouri applied for drought relief, one a Republican, the other a Democrat, but Missouri was not put on the disaster list of states. Kansas was, but Missouri wasn't. Sometimes politics pays.

Bigotry Doesn't Pay

In the closing days of last year's Colorado race between ex-Governor Dan Thornton, close friend of President Eisenhower, and ex-Congressman John Carroll for the Senate, an anonymous campaign circular appeared in Denver attacking Catholic candidates on the Democratic ticket, including Carroll who is a Protestant but married to a Catholic.

U. S. Attorney Donald E. Kelley issued a warrant for the arrest of Clarence W. Stafford, former Republican city councilman and close friend of Dan Thornton's. Stafford was arraigned the day before election and charged with violating a federal statute which prohibits anonymous campaign literature.

On election day the literature boomeranged. Three out of the four candidates attacked in the circular were elected. Dan Thornton, who never lost a state-wide race before, was defeated by Carroll by a margin of 3,000 votes—a defeat that gave the Democrats control of the Senate, 49 to 47.

Sequel: The other day Stafford and E. Page Wingate quietly slipped into Federal Court in Denver and admitted responsibility for the circulars. They pleaded guilty. Bigotry doesn't pay in American politics.

Under the Dome

Victor Kramer, who soon will leave justice's antitrust division for private law practice, is the only one who ever argued a case before the supreme court in a sailor's uniform. During World War II, Kramer was given special leave by the Navy to assist in a Justice Department antitrust argument. Much respected veteran

GOP Rep. "Pat" Kearney of New York will retire from Congress next year. . . House doorkeeper "Fishbait" Miller, who introduces the president and other prominent guests to joint sessions of Congress, got his nickname in Mississippi, where it was said he wasn't big enough to bait a fishhook.

Bordon

Mrs. Silas Blackard and daughter, Ethel of Omaha and Mrs. Bill McIlrath and son Jimmie, were dinner guests of Mrs. Ollie Clayton Friday.

Miss Mary Margaret Small and Miss Patty Kearnes were guests of Miss Mary Adkinson of Galatia Sunday evening.

Robert McDougal of Harco has returned to the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg for further treatment. His daughter and family have been in his home the past week. They are Mrs. Jewell Brody, Eugenia Vickie and Ranny, of Flint, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Gollmer visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Horn Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Berkel, Lemuel Hayes, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stricklin were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hayes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Malone are visiting in the homes of Mrs. Malone's father, Logan Kelley, and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen and daughter this week. The Malones work at the Manteno State hospital.

Miss Patty Kearnes spent Thursday with Miss Wilma Patterson and her sister, Bunea.

Mrs. Lavona Carrington is a patient in the Lightner hospital. She suffered a paralytic stroke, recently.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, John 3:16.

God went to infinite pains to fill the earth with coal and oil, and rare minerals, and earths we are just beginning dimly to understand and value. Trace minerals broadcast by volcanoes make life possible. God thought of everything for His children.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Artists sketch the scenes which they see prior to beginning to paint. Sometimes they outline many pictures before they ever touch a brush. Frequently sketches will not be looked at for many months.

The sketches are aids to their memory. They are mere frameworks or ideas on which the living scene will be constructed. Often penciled lines carry the potential of a work of art.

God sketches our lives and we fill in the picture. He gives us the potential of making our lives beautiful or ugly. We can touch the canvas of our characters with subtle shades of warmth or with broad swaths of incongruity.

God's outline is clear. It is an aid to our memory and to our creative talent. However, the finished pictures of our lives and souls are up to us. We must fill in the outline with our daily living.

Social and Personal Items

MR. AND MRS. GLEN UNDERWOOD, who were married Sunday, July 28.

Miss Delores Feazel, Glen Underwood Wed

Miss Delores Feazel, daughter of Mrs. James H. Feazel, 405 East Locust street, Harrisburg and Glen Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Underwood, also of Harrisburg, were married in the home of the bride's mother, at 1 o'clock on Sunday, July 28. Rev. Clarence Tison performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white street-length dress, styled with a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. She carried her bouquet of blue carnations on a white ribbon. Cascades of white ribbons secured the bouquet. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Byron, brother-in-law and sister of the bride were the attendants. Immediately following the ceremony.

Miss Ruth Ann Hinkle And David Moake Wed

Miss Ruth Ann Hinkle, daughter of Mrs. Freda Morris of Harrisburg, and David Moake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Moake, Carrier Mills, were married July 22 at Corinth, Miss.

Attendants for the wedding were close friends of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Brannon of Harrisburg.

The bride attended school in Harrisburg and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Carrier Mills high school. He is presently employed at the McDonald Aircraft Corp., St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Graves of Crossville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Partain and attended the Partain reunion at Marion Sunday evening. Mrs. Graves is the former Maude Hubbard of Harrisburg and a sister of Mr. Partain.

Bulganin No Longer On 'B and K' Team

LONDON —It's Khrushchev and Mikoyan now instead of Khrushchev and Bulganin.

Moscow dispatches reported that Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev had dropped Premier Nikolai Bulganin from the team of "B and K" for his visit to East Germany this week.

Instead Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviet foreign trade expert who accompanied Khrushchev to Romania for talks with Marshal Tito, will go with the party chief to Germany.

There was renewed speculation in London that the spade-bearded premier would be kicked upstairs, possibly to replace President Klement Voroshilov, and that Khrushchev might be grooming Mikoyan for the premiership.

Western diplomats in London have said that Bulganin is on his way out because he is reported to have sided with the disgraced Molotov-Malenkov-Kaganovich trio during the recent Kremlin purge.

Although Bulganin accompanied Khrushchev on his recent visit to Czechoslovakia, he was conspicuously absent during the secret Khrushchev-Tito talks on Soviet-Yugoslav relations.

House Passes Bill To Reduce Tax On Night-Clubbing

WASHINGTON —The House today passed by overwhelming voice vote a bill to reduce the federal tax on night-clubbing. The measure now goes to the Senate, which is not expected to complete action this year.

The bill would reduce to 10 percent the present 20 percent cabaret tax on food and drink consumed in hotel dining rooms and other night spots providing entertainment or live music.

The measure was approved over protests of a handful of members that other taxes should be reduced before giving tax relief to persons attending cabarets.

Fined

Charles Kennedy of Muddy today was arraigned before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods on a drunken driving charge and was fined $150 plus $9 costs when he pleaded guilty to the charge. He was arrested by State Policemen Guthrie Alexander, Richard Pearcy and Deputy Sheriff Charles Olson.

Jealous Wife Fights Auto Duel With Husband

LOS ANGELES —A jealous wife Sunday night fought an automobile duel with her husband and at one time nearly pinned him between his demolished car and a building, police said. She was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Robert D. Smallfield, 42, Alhambra, told police he and his wife, Wilma, also 42, quarreled at home and he drove away in his new car.

Minutes later she followed in her own older car and rammed her husband's vehicle at a cross street.

She caught and rammed him again at two other intersections and, according to Smallfield, shouted:

"Turn around and fight like a man!" and "You coward, come back and have it out! My car can knock out your fancy-dan heap any day!"

Smallfield told police he escaped down a side road, but when he returned to the boulevard his wife was waiting for him and rammed him again. He circled the block a dozen times with his wife in pursuit. "I finally got chicken and abandoned my car," Smallfield said.

He said when he got out his wife tried to pin him between his battered car and the building and then came after him with a club. Smallfield ripped ignition wires from her car, outran his wife and called police who picked up the woman three blocks from the scene.

"I didn't want to kill him—I just wanted to scare him," she said.

Olmsted Farmer To Receive Award at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. —Joseph C. McCormick, Olmsted farmer and 1922 graduate of Southern Illinois University, will be given a Distinguished Service Award at SIU summer commencement exercises here Friday, Aug. 9.

Beginning at 7 p. m. in McCandrew Stadium, the ceremonies will involve more than 380 degree candidates, Southern's largest summer graduating class.

McCormick, a former teacher in Wayne, Jasper and Pulaski County public schools, was a leader in promoting legislation authorizing county-wide road districts. He has also pushed legislation for the improvement of rural school districts. An original member of the Educational Council of 100 Incorporated, of which he was a director and secretary, he has been highly active in Southern Illinois educational programs. He is a member of the executive committee of the Illinois Council for Community Schools and a board member of the Southern Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc.

Dr. David Kenney, assistant dean of the SIU Graduate School and associate professor of government, will deliver the commencement address. The title of his address will be "We Happy Few."

Congress Skeptical of Air Force Air Conditioning of Personnel Quarters

WASHINGTON —The Air Force says that by installing air conditioners at government expense in the family quarters of its married personnel, it really is saving the taxpayers money.

Some members of Congress are skeptical though. The situation came to light in testimony made public Sunday by a House Appropriations subcommittee. It disclosed that the Air Force expects to air-condition about 60 per cent of the units in its present housing program.

Brig. Gen. Joseph E. Gill, deputy director for facilities support, said the Air Force has "a very great reason other than just the pure comfort" for putting in cooling units in hot climates.

Gill said if the Air Force doesn't put in the units, the airman can buy his own. Then the Air Force has to pay not only for the electricity, but the cost of shipping the unit if the man is transferred.

He went on to say "one of our big problems on our bases today" is that so many sergeants have "so many automobiles."

"If they can afford two cars, then for 10 cents a day they will buy an air conditioner," Gill said. "... So if we do not provide air conditioning for these houses, we are taking on a much bigger bill."

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) criticized the Air Force policy.

"I do not approve this means of gradually creeping into this expensive undertaking of providing air-conditioned living quarters for the Air Force," Whitten said.

Eisenhower Pressing for Civil Rights Compromise or Will Veto

WASHINGTON —President Eisenhower is gunning for a civil rights compromise that at the very minimum limits jury trials to voting rights cases, authoritative quarters indicated today.

Highly placed administration sources said there is "no doubt" the President would veto the civil rights bill the Senate is set to pass this week.

With voting on amendments ended, the Senate put the rights bill aside today to work on other business. A vote to pass it was expected possibly Tuesday or Wednesday.

The administration is pinning its hopes on a Senate-House conference committee to beef up the Senate bill enough to make it acceptable. Many Democrats supporting the Senate version hope the House will approve it "as is" and send it to the White House.

Called Inadequate

The Senate measure provides for (1) a bipartisan commission to investigate violations of voting rights; (2) a new assistant attorney general to handle civil rights cases in the Justice Department; (3) power for the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions to prevent threats to Negroes' voting rights; (4) trial by jury for criminal contempt, but not civil contempt, arising out of violation of injunctions under this or other federal laws; (5) elimination of a present barrier to service by Negroes on some Southern juries; and (6) repeal of an old law permitting use of troops to enforce Negro rights.

Highest councils in the President's official family, chiefly the Justice Department, called the Senate version "woefully inadequate" and unacceptable.

They centered their fire on the bill's provision for jury trials in criminal contempt cases. This covers not only the measure's own voting rights section but all other criminal contempt cases brought by the federal government.

The sources said this would cause chaos in the federal courts by interfering with cases arising under a long list of statutes including labor cases, antitrust violations, federal trade commission matters and others.

Ex-Convict, Freed From Alcatraz, Held in Burglaries

CHARLESTON, Ill. (UPI) — Cecil L. Wright, the "Lawyer of the Rock" who won freedom from Alcatraz Prison after studying law, was arrested here early today in connection with a series of burglaries at nearby Hindsboro.

Sheriff's deputies said the ex-convict was arrested at the home of a niece, Mrs. Jane Dennis. He was found in bed, fully clothed.

The burglaries at Hindsboro, in adjacent Douglas County, included two grocery stores, an automobile agency and the Hindsboro post office, the deputies reported.

Wright was held in Coles County jail pending transfer to the Douglas County jail at Tuscola. The alleged burglaries were believed to have occurred late Sunday night or early today.

The ex-convict won his freedom from Alcatraz in 1948 after he became an expert on habeas corpus procedure by teaching himself law while in prison. He had been sent to prison for a post office robbery in 1929.

He has been in and out of trouble with the law several times since his 1948 release, including a charge of violating the national firearms act in connection with the robbery of the Ashmore, Ill., post office several years ago.

Report REA Chief Will Be Fired

WASHINGTON —The White House refused direct comment today on a report that Rural Electrification Administrator David H. Egan will be fired by President Eisenhower for "too liberal" views.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said only, "We have no vacancies before us."

He gave this reply also to a question on whether Cincinnati soap manufacturer Neil H. McElroy has been selected to replace Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, who has indicated he wants to end his government service this fall.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Crappie Top Area Fishing Results

By Pete Brown
Southern Illinois fishing news has been generally encouraging going into the first week of August with crappie headlining virtually all reports.

LITTLE GRASSY LAKE—Crappie fishing has been excellent and catches of 50 to 100 within a few hours of evening or early morning angling are not uncommon. A few have weighed in at more than two pounds. Bluegill fishing is also good, but only occasional bass action has been reported. Catfish have been moving at night and banklines are doing the job.

The week's bass champions were Bennie Sutter, of Belleville, a seven and three-quarter pounder on a Bomber and Black Eel; Bill Stewart, Murphysboro, a six and one-half pounder on a Helldiver, and Charles Wilson, Mt. Vernon, a four and one-half pounder on a minnow. Trolling also has produced a few bass.

LAKE MURPHYSBORO — The lake is cloudy, but not overly so. Some fine crappie—up to a pound and a half—are being taken on spinners in deep water. Lots of small bass have been hooked on the artificial red worm. Bass in the two to four pound category were landed by M. Freeburg, and Willard Ellis, of Murphysboro, and Noel Roscoe, of Red Bud. Bluegill returns have been sporadic.

PICKNEYVILLE CITY LAKE —Crappie still hitting madly, but few fishermen took advantage of the situation during the last week of July. Bass-plugging has been slow. The water is in excellent condition.

HORSESHOE LAKE — Crappie are on the move here, too, and catches are averaging eight to nine inches in length. Several two-plus pounders also have been caught. Pole and line fishermen have reaped an abundance of small catfish, crappie and bluegill below the spillway. Bass fishing is slow and bluegill, according to an observer, are "non-existent."

SAHARA LAKE — Fishing has picked up and scores of rather smallish bluegill are being caught in deep water away from shore. "Fisherman's Guide" agents hooked keepers in four hours, using catpaw worms. Catpaw trees are loaded with these black and yellow caterpillars right now. Many of these trees grow along route 13 approximately one-half mile east of the Herrin "wy." Roaches, however, have been the most popular bait at Sahara.

HARRISBURG CITY LAKE — One pound bass hitting readily as fishing continues on the upswing. One fishing party took out six crappie averaging a pound apiece. Occasional two and three pound bass have spiced the overall catch.

LAKE MOSES — A four pound bass caught on a Black Eel was tops during a slow week. Bluegill are running free and small. CRAB ORCHARD LAKE — A few bass have been taken lately in deep water, but few of them have gone over two pounds. Water is dropping, but still on the dingy side.

"The Chute," a good-looking body of water located south and west of Grand Tower, has provided fishermen a varied bill of fare during the past few weeks. Catfish and bluegill angling has been best, but most every species indigenous to the area can be caught. Plenty of logs and brush make it a natural. A boat is recommended.

Catfishing has been fairly productive at the Mississippi intake pipe near the power plant at Grand Tower.

The Ohio River at Golconda is low enough for good fishing but still a shade too muddy. Bottom-fishing with crayfish on rod and reel has proven effective.

Big Creek, Lusk Creek and Grand Pierre Creeks are all somewhat murky downstream and fishing has been slow.

Steve Simpson of Eldorado caught a 35-pound spoonbill cat on a set line at the mouth of Big Saline Creek.

Four All-Star Contests Today in Kiwanis Leagues

Four All-Star baseball games will be played on the VFW field today and tonight, sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

At 1:30 the boys up to and including 10 years of age, play the Pony league game. At 3:30 the boys of up to and including 12 years of age play the Kitty league contest. At 5:30 boys 13 and 14 play the III league all-star game and at 7:30 the National league boys 15, 16 and 17 will play the final all-star tilt.

The Pony and Kitty league games will be six-inning tilts and the III and National contests will be seven-inning affairs. The public is invited to watch some of the outstanding players of the leagues compete.

Boudreau May Be Replaced by George Selkirk

NEW YORK — Unless the last-place Kansas City Athletics do a complete about-face within the next eight days, Lou Boudreau will be let out as manager and George Selkirk probably will replace him, the United Press learned today on excellent authority.

Boudreau faces the eight-day deadline because the Kansas City front office feels something drastic has to be done before the A's come off the road and return home, Aug. 13.

Boudreau, whose contract still has another year to go, will be offered a job in the Kansas City front office, according to the source. As a matter of fact, he may be offered the same post with the Athletics Selkirk now holds—director of player personnel—so that the two men actually would be trading jobs.

Selkirk, the former New York Yankee outfielder, won a pennant with Kansas City in 1952 when the club was still in the American Association, and still is a tremendously popular figure in that city.

Arnold Johnson, the owner of the Athletics, is "extremely disappointed" at the club's recent showing, according to the United Press source.

If Boudreau is released by Kansas City, he will be the third pilot to be released this year.

The Washington Senators named Cookie Lavagetto to succeed Chuck Dressen, May 7, and Danny Murtaugh replaced Bobby Bragan as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates last Saturday.

Ronnie Vick has officially received a football scholarship to Arkansas State college at Jonesboro.

Vick, who played center, then tackle on the Harrisburg Blue Dogs football team and graduated this spring, made seven straight place kicks for extra points his senior year, not missing a boot. He was named to the South Seven conference all-star second team.

The scholarship will provide room, board, tuition, books and laundry expenses.

Millard Davis

Galatia high school's new coach, Millard Davis, is certainly no stranger to the Greater Egyptian conference.

He was a member of the great Cave-in-Rock team of 1951-52 that tore the conference apart and then joined the coaching ranks at the start of the 1955-56 school term at Rosiclare and had his team off and running.

However, just before the holidays, Davis was called into military service and his first coaching job was nipped in the bud. Now he is coming back for another try.

Galatia fans probably will see fast moving play this year. As a player Davis and his teammates—Davis, Willis, Cruze, Douglas, Austin—played fire wagon basketball. Fast breaking offense and an all-court pressing defense.

And as a coach he had his Rosiclare Bears on the move. In the 1955 season's opener the Bears pressed a heavily favored Carrier Mills into defeat.

Following graduation from Cave-in-Rock high school Davis enrolled at Junior College, Goodman, Miss., later transferred to Memphis State. He lettered in both basketball and baseball his four years in college.

Wayne Williams, former Du Quoin high school and Southern Illinois University athletic star, has been hired as assistant football and basketball coach at West Frankfort.

He was a three-sport—football, basketball and baseball—letter winner at Du Quoin and earned varsity letters four years at SIU in football and baseball.

Following graduation from SIU Williams was signed as an end by the New York Giants football professional team, but didn't remain with the pros.

George Force, 6-6 center who paced Carbondale Athletics to a winning season during the past cage season, will enroll at Southern Illinois University this fall, it is reported.

Another former high school cage star, Jim Lazenby of Pinckneyville, is also headed for SIU. Lazenby attended a college down south last year.

and Mrs. Marion Vick of Dorris Heights. Besides playing football he was a catcher on the Bull Dog baseball squad.

Enos Slaughter Paces Yanks To Double Win Over Indians; Cards Split, Maintain Lead

By United Press

Enos Slaughter keeps demonstrating why the New York Yankees' American League rivals rate him "the greatest pro of 'em all."

The 41-year-old, balding Slaughter showed the "young 'uns" how it's done Sunday when he smashed five hits and drove in five runs to lead the Yankees to a 5-2 and 6-5 sweep of the Cleveland Indians. The victories extended the Yankees' winning streak to eight games and their first-place lead to a season's high of 6 1/2 games.

Slaughter, who joined the Yankees a year ago this month, delivered a run-scoring single and a three-run homer in the opener and capped the performance when he singled in the ninth inning of the nightcap to drive in Yogi Berra with the decisive run.

The Chicago White Sox dropped another half-game off the Yankees' pace despite an 11-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox, the Washington Senators out-homered the Detroit Tigers, 8-4, and the Baltimore Orioles tied the Indians for fourth place with a 5-0 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

Hold NL Lead
The St. Louis Cardinals split a double-header with the Philadelphia Phillies, winning, 4-1, after a 5-4 defeat, and held first place by a half game after another furious day of activity in the National League. The Milwaukee Braves downed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-7, the Cincinnati Redlegs rebounded from a 14-inning, 7-6 loss to whip the New York Giants, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs ruined Danny Murtaugh's managerial debut with 6-0 and 3-2 wins over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the other NL games.

Lindy McDaniel scattered nine hits for his ninth triumph as the Cardinals gained a split after Larry Jackson walked home the Phillies' decisive run in the 12th inning of the opener. Harry Anderson sent the first game into extra innings with a two-out, ninth-inning homer.

Braves Take Dodgers
The Braves gained a half game on the Cardinals with a 13-hit offense sparked by homers by Ed Mathews, Del Rice, Johnny Logan and Hank Aaron. Bob Buhl won his 14th game and fourth of the year over the Dodgers although he was knocked out in the eighth inning. Sal Maglie lost his fourth game.

Frank Robinson singled home the winning run for the Redlegs as Vicente Amor gained his first major league victory after a seesaw, 4-hour and 20-minute opener in which Willie Mays hit two homers and a triple. The Giants won the first game, in which 43 players appeared, when Tom Acker walked three men in the 14th inning and Ray Katt came through with a sacrifice fly.

The Cubs, who had swept only one of 20 previous double-headers, dropped the Pirates into last place when they won the opener on Moe Drabowsky's six-hitter and the second game on Jack Littrell's 11th-inning double that scored Jerry Kindall. Drabowsky's shutout was the first of his big league career.

VFW Defeats Bluford, 5-4

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team of the Oil Belt league defeated the Bluford Legion team of the Tri-County League 5-4 Sunday for its 16th win of the season. Don Wallace started for the VFW and Kayo Willis took over in the third and pitched seven shutout innings. Kayo hasn't pitched in a couple of years but his fast ball was hopping and he allowed only two hits over his 7-inning stretch.

The visitors scored all of their runs in the big second inning when Caldwell lead off with a walk, Esmon tripled, Cutt doubled, Burgess singled and Schumm was safe on an infield error. The VFW came back and scored two runs in this inning when McNew hit a long triple, Proctor doubled over the left fielder's head and Smith dropped a single into left.

The locals had several other good scoring chances but four times the visitors choked off rallies with lightning fast double plays. Also the visitors broke up a double steal with two perfect throws to get the man at the plate. The VFW tied the game in the eighth when Willis walked, advanced to second when the pitcher threw wildly on Stout's grounder and scored on Romonosky's double to left. Dallas was walked intentionally and was then picked off first but in the run down Stout crossed the plate with the tying run.

In the ninth hustling Don Proctor was safe at first when the shortstop momentarily fumbled the ground ball. He stole second and Ron Vick lined a single to center to score him. Dick Romonosky and Ron Vick divided the catching chores and Romonosky had one unusual inning when he caught three foul flies in one inning. Don Proctor made a game-saving catch in the fifth when with two out he went in the hole and threw out a man on a sure hit with second and third occupied.

Next Sunday the locals will play the Norris City team in an important league game. Also if the game can be set up the locals will play a colored team from Carbondale next Saturday night.

XXXVI

SUNDAY afternoon there was a session with the lawyers; Valley took him out to talk to old Dr. Lillard, to tell him what had been done.

On Monday morning he made a deposition on the finding of the bag, its opening and its surrender, untouched, to the authorities. That excused him from appearance at the hearing, and it was a positive relief to take refuge in his work, to go to the office and the hospital.

He had one emergency, or what the mother thought might be one—her four-year-old had been discovered drinking out of the bird-bath in the yard!

"It was filthy!" said Virginia McManus. "Won't he get typhoid?"

"Oh, I can't promise that he will, Virginia."

She looked at him indignantly. "Don't you think it's serious?"

"I think it could be—and we'll take every precaution. But I would hope the child need not be overly frightened."

He went home for lunch and attended to some business.

Garde was late keeping the rest of his afternoon office appointments, so he could concentrate on them in order not to miss the 4:30 bull session in the doctors' room. Today, he didn't want to miss it.

He came in at a fast walk and went straight to the coffee urn, then sat down with a whoosh of relief.

"Busy day?" asked Cornet.

"Was. I'm glad of it."

There was a little discussion. A telephone call came in for Cornet; and while he talked, Garde thought about taking a shower; he should be getting on home, with all the things he had to do. He must talk again to Nan, in person—not over the phone.

"Hey! Shelton!" Doc Windsor was bending over him, snapping his fingers in his face. "You alive?"

"Just barely. What is it now?"

"Didn't you hear what Cornet asked you?"

"No. Was it important?"

Ruble snorted, Cornet and Windsor laughed.

"Was it about the hearing?"

Garde asked with quickened interest.

"Partly. Bail is to be set in court tomorrow—but I asked you," said the big redheaded surgeon, "if you'd care to stay on in Bayard—after Lillard gets back, I meant."

Garde's attention sharpened. Focused. He sat up straight in his chair and put his coffee cup down on the nearest flat surface. Then he got to his feet, unable to sustain this surge of happiness while seated in a deep chair. They were asking him!

Which was pretty swell! He said as much to his friends. Concluding with, "After sitting all summer in Lillard's chair, it's pretty fine to know that I can have one of my own."

GARDE went over to his locker, recognizing this minute as another one of pure, uncomplicated happiness. A pearl-like treasure to hold in his hand and to joy which now added its rich drop to the cup of happiness already overflowing for him.

He shucked out of his white ducks and reached for his dark trousers. "I suppose you know I'm pleased to be asked," he said in his gruff voice, which effectively hid the full extent of his feeling. "I can't say much more than that now because tomorrow I'm flying to Boston."

"Huh?" The men all came to attention in various ways. Cornet drank his coffee and set the cup on the tray with a smack, Ruble tugged the knot firm on his shoestring, Windsor poked his head through the opening of his shirt.

"Yes," said Garde, reaching for his dark shoes. "When I talked to Flynn this morning about that tetanus case, he asked me if I could go to Boston. A year ago I worked on one with a nurse who trained in Boston and had come to Childre's for some special work. She's back there now, and she asked if I could come. She's a swell person."

As he sat down, Garde gestured with one hand above his head to indicate the little fluted cupcake cap that this nurse wore. "Flynn told her I'd come, and he told me this morning—"

"And now you tell us," said Dewey in an awed tone.

"Well, I worked like a dog today to clear up things. And if Kurt does get home this week, I can be spared."

"So you're going East," said Cornet. "Shut up, Windsor. Of course he's going. But then what, Shelton?"

"YOU'D better ask my wife," Garde tied his second shoe and stood up. He glanced at his friends; all were smiling but not one of them blinked. There were few secrets in Bayard; none in the hospital.

Garde nodded and took his shirt from the hanger.

"You're all invited to the wedding tomorrow. Windsor's going to be my best man."

Ruble and Cornet turned accusingly on Windsor. "First I've heard of it," he assured them. "And me with my best pants at the cleaners."

They all laughed then and shook Garde's hand, and someone asked if Nan would have anything to say about where he worked or about his career in general.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Oh, No, Never!

"The way I feel about Nan," said Garde emphatically, "she'll have the whole say about everything!"

Dewey Windsor sighed impressively. "Lucky man!" he declared. "Lucky girl," corrected Ruble.
